Debt Ceiling Debate?

By: Robert Buckner

The "Liberal-Left Ruling Class Statist," along with their willing accomplices in the mainstream media, are very skilled at constructing publically-debated topics in such a way as to begin the debate with admittedly, absolutely absurd and "false" or, "untrue" premises! They then spend the energies of their opposition on those "invalid-distractions," while the important aspects of the debate pass-through, absent of any real or true scrutiny!

The American people are experiencing one such scenario with regard to the; quote, so-called - "Debt Ceiling Debate!"

The entire premise, as presented by those in government who desire to raise the limit of indebtedness that government can initiate upon every single American citizen, is completely mischaracterized!

Essentially, what we have with "their" desired scenario is:

The "SPENDERS" (i.e. government) want to tell those who they want to "BORROW" from (American tax-payers) "HOW MUCH" - that is, how much the "UPPER-LIMIT" - should be!

Can any American citizen, of average intelligence, possibly comprehend (in any other setting) where that scenario would not be immediately determined to be fiscally irresponsible and insane?

So, how is it that this is even being discussed as though it is really, some sort of a "debate?" In a real debate, both sides must first possess legitimate arguments!

Obviously, the very fact that the "SPENDERS" (government) have already spent "MORE" than their previous, so-called - "DEBT-LIMIT" - should intellectually and fiscally disqualify them from receiving ANY ADDITIONAL FUNDS!

Where is the premise for a Debate?
