

I want to be a Car

<http://www.freedumbinamericatoday.com/>

I want to be a Car

By: Robert Buckner

Some truths are more difficult to grasp and understand than others. Even when God has purposed to open a pathway to an understanding for all of man, without a love for God; without a heart for God; even a truth made plain by God, can remain veiled to some.

I am intrigued by the realization that there are numerous highly-educated (by worldly standards) men, who do not, and cannot, comprehend Truths which I (not highly-educated) not only understand, but rest in – as easily as I might sit in a favorite old comfortable easy chair.

It must also be realized that sometimes the world may only say that they do not understand a truth – when actually, they do understand, they just want to pretend to themselves and others that they do not in order to establish a premise whereby they can construct a supposed argument against it.

The self-anointed gods of worldly-wisdom desire to re-categorize a coupling of two homosexuals together under the mantle of marriage. For the children of the father of lies to profess that this should be done, is contemptible before the God of Creation. However, even from the lowly perspective of worldly wisdom, it is ludicrous and is completely bankrupt of any intellectual sensibility whatsoever to pursue!

Righteous people should not be deceived - these perverted sodomites do not want to change the "meaning" of marriage – they want contemporary culture to change and accept them under the traditional and righteous mantle of marriage – and this is something that just cannot be!

The truth is not complex and difficult to understand in this matter. Marriage "is" something. Like a rock is a rock and a car is a car – "marriage" "is" something.

God created man and woman and then He created "Marriage!" It is when a man and a woman are joined together in holy matrimony - that "IS" marriage. It is marriage in the eyes of man and certainly in the eyes of Him who did create it! Vows are made before God and then there is a legal recognition and documentation to confirm that what God did create – marriage – had occurred.

The One who created it has the right and authority to define what it is. God has done that. For someone who does not have that authority to arbitrarily just say – "I want to be in union with someone of the same gender," and be "married too," is simply - impossible. For those who oppose the desire for homosexuals to do this, there are many legitimate and very rationale reasons for doing so – and not all of them need be, spiritually based!

On a purely intellectual basis, for two homosexuals to say that they want to be married, and then to be legally documented as such, would be akin to two people saying that they want to be automobiles and to be titled and licensed as such!

The true reality is that people are not automobiles. Consequently, they sensibly, cannot be legally titled as such! Using that same primary and fundamental logical method of intelligent reasoning; if "marriage," as defined by the Creator of marriage, means that a "Man" and a "Woman" have come together – then two people of the same gender CANNOT come together and thus - become married.

The intellectual (certainly not spiritual) remedy to this apparent serious problem for the perverts would be for "them" to simply create a "new" title which would specifically define and identify the results of two homosexuals in union.

Perhaps: "Two Perv's in a Pod," "Destine for Hell," "Don't Call me Sissy," "Buddies in Union," "See no Evil," "Don't Call Me Bruce,"

What they cannot do is to call themselves married – because married already means something and what it truly means – they can NEVER be!

FREEDUMB IN AMERICA TODAY

<http://www.freedumbinamericatoday.com/>