

Righteously Fighting the Battle for Life - and America!

Freedom In America Today

Righteously Fighting the Battle for Life – and America

---

On January 23rd, 2011, I wrote a commentary on America's Achilles heel, abortion, called "Ending America's Dance with Death." In it I quoted R. Sargent Shriver who wrote in a 1992 New York Times article that,

"The advocates of abortion on demand falsely assume two things: that women must suffer if the lives of unborn children are legally protected; and that women can only attain equality by having the legal option of destroying their innocent offspring in the womb. The cynicism of these assumptions reflects a terrible failure of moral imagination and social responsibility and an appalling lack of respect for women."

No greater lie and human travesty as the phrase "a woman's right to choose", outside of the Garden, has ever been foisted upon the human race and foolishly embraced than this satanically driven phrase elevating the so called "rights" of the born over the God granted rights of the innocent unborn.

Embracing by toleration a blatant disrespect for human life is not only a violation of the law of God, it represents a rejection of God's authority over His creation and a rejection of God Himself. It is the ultimate statement of defiance and independence, an in-your-face assertion that we are gods unto ourselves.

Without ending America's dance with death and restoring our nation's moral center, repealing Obamacare, creating jobs, and reducing our debt will not prevent God's judgment on America. The murder of the innocents, made in His image by Him and for Him, offends and grieves a holy God whose justice and judgment will not wait forever.

Unless those with a conscience and respect for human life vote in far greater numbers in our Primaries and Caucuses, and in the November 6th General Election, the "terrible failure of moral imagination and social responsibility" and the "appalling lack of respect for women" will continue its de-civilizing and destructive manifestation in every area of our lives. Help us Restore America by registering to vote, voting your values, and awakening Christians to their citizenship duty and voting responsibility.

David Crowe
President & CEO

Freedumb In America Today