

Washington's Thanksgiving Day Proclamation v. Marxist Proclamation

Freedumb In America Today

Dear Friends,

Not sure just how far that America 2011 has slid from where it was at its inception? Well, how about a comparison of our First President's (that would be: George Washington – for those who are "Publicly-Educated") "Thanksgiving Day Proclamation" and the current President's Marxist view!

Robert

Obama's Thanksgiving Address Fails to Mention God!

In keeping with his Marxist philosophies, President Barack Obama intentionally omitted any mention of God in his Thanksgiving Day address to the nation. Whether you realize it or not, this was not an accidental oversight.

From his school days to college and to the White House, Obama has continually surrounded himself with radical socialists and Marxists. Their influence on him has been radiantly evident since the day he stole the Oval Office from honest Americans.

Marxists have long been trying to remove the Christian foundation from America and to desensitize the nation to overtly sinful life styles such as homosexuality, pornography, adultery, fornication, lying, cheating, stealing and even murder. Once these Christian morals have been successfully undermined, it's only a matter of time until the country completely falls into Marxism and the hands of a dictatorial few.

If you listen closely to his address, you will hear his Marxist ideology when he says,

“The very first Thanksgiving was a celebration of community during a time of great hardship and we follow that example ever since. Even when the fate of our union was far from certain; during the Civil War, two World Wars, a Great Depression, Americans drew strength from each other. They had faith that tomorrow would be better than today... But no matter how tough things are right now we still give thanks for that most American of blessings, the chance to determine our own destiny.”

This is typical of liberal revisionist history as the first Thanksgiving and virtually every one since then, has focused on thanking God for the blessings He has bestowed on our nation. The first Pilgrims thanked God for the new friends and for bringing them to a land where they could freely worship God and Jesus Christ and establish a government based upon biblical principles.

If you want to read what Thanksgiving was really about, I strongly urge you to read George Washington’s Thanksgiving proclamation and then compare that to Obama’s. Washington thanked God whereas Obama thanked community. This is one of the basic tenets of Marxism – community. They want to replace all aspects of God, and individuality with community, and you could hear that in his address.

Americans! Wake UP! While you’re sitting on your butts moaning and groaning about the economy and jobs, Obama and his comrades are actively trying to culminate a 100 year process of converting America into a Marxist or progressive nation. Unless people get up and start doing something about it, it’s going to happen much sooner than you realize. And if you don’t believe me, listen to some of the men and women who have been involved with the political system and who have seen firsthand what’s happening.

George Washington’s Proclamation - Thanksgiving Day – 1789

This is the text of George Washington's October 3, 1789 national Thanksgiving Proclamation; as printed in The Providence Gazette and Country Journal, on October 17, 1789.

By the President of the United States of America.

A Proclamation.

WHEREAS it is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey His will, to be grateful for His benefits, and humbly to implore His protection and favor; and whereas both Houses of Congress have, by their joint committee, requested me "to recommend to the people of the United States a day of public thanksgiving and prayer, to be observed by acknowledging with grateful hearts the many and signal favors of Almighty God, especially by affording them an opportunity peaceably to establish a form of government for their safety and happiness."

Now, therefore, I do recommend and assign Thursday, the 26th day of November next, to be devoted by the people of these States to the service of that great and glorious Being who is the beneficent author of all the good that was, that is, or that will be; that we may then all unite in rendering unto Him our sincere and humble thanks for His kind care and protection of the people of this country previous to their becoming a nation; for the signal and manifold mercies and the favorable interpositions of His providence in the course and conclusion of the late war; for the great degree of tranquility, union, and plenty which we have since enjoyed; for the peaceable and rational manner in which we have been enabled to establish constitutions of government for our safety and happiness, and particularly the national one now lately instituted; for the civil and religious liberty with which we are blessed, and the means we have of acquiring and diffusing useful knowledge; and, in general, for all the great and various favors which He has been pleased to confer upon us.

And also that we may then unite in most humbly offering our prayers and supplications to the great Lord and Ruler of Nations, and beseech Him to pardon our national and other transgressions; to enable us all, whether in public or private stations, to perform our several and relative duties properly and punctually; to render our National Government a blessing to all the people by constantly being a Government of wise, just, and constitutional laws, discreetly and faithfully executed and obeyed; to protect and guide all sovereigns and nations (especially such as have shown kindness to us), and to bless them with good governments, peace, and concord; to promote the knowledge and practice of true religion and virtue, and the increase of science among them and us; and, generally, to grant unto all mankind such a degree of temporal prosperity as He alone knows to be best.

Given under my hand, at the city of New York, the third day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eighty-nine.

G. Washington.

Freedumb In America Today